Shorts About Service Men

What the Boys are Doing Here and There

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Wolert have had a letter from their son, David Bolender, seaman first class in the navy, who is doing his stuff in the South Pacific. Dave said he now weighs 182 pounds, having gained more than 20 pounds since his enlistment. He says he is now stationed on an island for a while and is very well pleased to have his feet on the dry earth. Dave, who survived the sinking of the Northhampton, is in the regular navy for a four-year hitch.

Being located near Truckee, Frank Titus, naval aviation cadet, manages to get home on occsional weekends. He has completed his primary flying and leaves soon for advanced training, being one of the 80 out of 120 young fliers in his group to finish the tests. Last weekend, three of his buddies, Cadets Ted Spence, Ernie Bingham and Jack Rogers came to Truckee with him for a day's visit.

Jack Garrison observed his birthday yesterday in far-away India where he is located with a medical detachment. He has written to his mother, Mrs. E. A. Meiss, that he has had his head shaved but is sporting a fine Van Dyke beard.

Pfc. R. R. (Doc) Rockholm was here Monday from San Francisco for a brief visit. He is driving an ambulance and officers' cars. Doc said his return to Pfc. from Corp. is a long story, but not a sad one.

Captain Vernon Nelson, formerly with the Bank of America here, is now located with the inspector general's office at Atlanta, Georgia. He has been joined by Mrs. Nelson, after his transfer from San Francisco.

Incidentally, and to answer many inquiries, we should have reported a few weeks ago that Yell Nobles has rejoined the Bank of America family and is now at the head office in San Francisco, having received his honorable discharge from OTC.

F. E. Clark of Hirschdale heard from his son, Lloyd, who has recently been promoted to fireman first class in the navy. This is the first letter to reach Lloyd's parents since February when he sailed out onto the Pacific. Lloyd reports that during the period since he left he has had little recreation but enjoys navy life and the men with whom he serves.

J. Warren Clark, Lloyd's brother, is in the army in the frozen north and writes that he is still expecting a leave after more than two years in Alaska.

Sea-Bee Leo Cardinal, who has been in "boot" training in Virginia, is expected home on leave this week. He has completed his training in the east and will receive a new assignment soon.

From Corp. Robert C. Gifford of the field artillery in the east seaboard we received a welcome letter this week. Bob writes that his outfit has been on maneuvers and that he got a little behind with his Sierra Sun, but looks forward to them, even if they are a bit late. "Certainly missed the first day of fishing season this year," Bob wrote, 'but there will be plenty more May firsts after we finish this mess .... would seem awfully good to have some of that cool breeze off Donner Lake." Bob wanted to be remembered to his friends here.

Lt. Earl Edmunds, who spent a year with a bomber squadron over the Aleutians, is now stationed near Pocatello, Idaho, where he is engaged in training young pilots for the rigors ahead in the march to Tokio.

Major Charles Cross, former official of the Truckee-Tahoe Lumber company here has returned from a year spent in the Pacific with the Field Artillery and will be stationed for a while in California.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Pierce have assurance from their son, Charlie in New Guinea that he is still in the midst of activities there and doing well.

ACCUSED TOOL THIEF IS RETURNED HERE

Constable N. F. Dolley went to Woodland Tuesday to return John Reeder, 30, of Marysville, who is accused of stealing tools from L. J. Rice while both men were employed near Truckee by Hempstreet and Bell, highway construction contractors. Reeder was arrested in the Yolo district but will stand trial here.

SCOUTMASTER TELLS ROTARY OF PROGRAM

Scoutmaster Reuben Swett told of the aims and accomplishments of the Boy Scouts at a meeting of the Rotary Club Monday night and his interesting discussion was supplemented by remarks by Bishop Noel Porter of Sacramento and Henry Milo of Mountain View. Bert Weeden was the program chairman and Dee W. Bowen presided.

There were 12 members present and visiting Rotarians beside Bishop Porter and Milo were James McNab of Oakland, Cedric Porter of Nevada City, Otto Fox of Auburn.

The club accepted an invitation to attend a barbecue of Forest Camp Grounds near Sierraville next Thursday night given by the Loyalton Club

TRUCKEE GARAGE CHANGES HANDS IN LOCAL DEAL

A business transaction of local importance was consumated here this week when Charles Brunk, owner of the Donner Garage and Clyde Miller of Roseville purchased the interest of Clarence Osburn in the Truckee Garage and leased that establishment from A. R. Ghirard.

Osburn, who has operated the Truckee Garage for the past two years, will take over the Associated Oil Company plant here and also contiune to operate the Associated Service Station on the main street.

Myron Immer, Associated agent in this territory, has received a promotion and will work out of the Sacramento district office in about two weeks.

Miller, his wife and two small children have arrived here and have taken the Weeden house in Brinkletown.

Brunk said he hoped to secure the AAA franchise which has been operated in connection with the Truckee Garage. He will continue to manage the Donner Garage and plans extensive improvements when possible.

To prevent further theft of valuable animals ranging in this area, stockmen are posting a $1000 reward for the arrest and conviction of anyone apprehended stealing or slaughtering stock illegally.

My Place In The Sun

By CORP. DOUG BARRETT

(Excerpts from letters from some where in the Alaska Theater).

We have a new weather man up here—a Cpl. Jack Jessup—who comes from San Francisco. He knows Frank Titus and used to ski in the Truckee-Summit region. He was shocked when I told him I didn't, swore that if he had the chance he'd be out every day. Personally, I can't see the fun of freezing your feet and hands in the spirit of sport. I doubt if he will after a winter up here. Time will tell is he has endurance.

I think it's time someone looked at the post war situation without a jaundiced eye. A lot of folks back home are whacking away at the administration's attitude toward the fascists and collaborationists who are seeing fit to lay down their arms. I don't know if Abe Lincoln said it or not, but he should have and if he didn't I will —"Hell hath no fury like a non-combatant." Personally, I think a lot of people take a biased view of the situation in assuming that an enlightened few in the oppressed nations are representative of the whole population. I heartily agree with my commander-in-chief when he says there is no France. I'd go further and say there is no Greece, Yugoslavia, Albania, et al ad infinitum. There isn't and won't be until the allied forces land and free them. The so-called governments in exile are functioning without representative assemblies from the people and they are responsible to no one except their more powerful and fortunate allies and to generations yet unborn. Let's finish the war successfully before we take up politics of nations where we have no authority nor power. Let's give the people—the whole people—of every nation a chance to say who they want for a prime minister, president or king.

From the sound of the news, it looks like I was a little off in my pool prediction of the day of the second front on the continent (Sept. 10, 1943). That is one half-dollar I don't mind losing, believe me. I still think there is a little too much optimism abroad about an immediate collapse of the enemy on all fronts. Obviously, we can't scare anyone but Il Duce so we'll just have to out fight the rest of them.

PLANS PROGRESS FOR GARDEN SHOW

All vegetable and flower gardeners of Truckee are urged to take their contributions to the Wyethia Womens Club building for the display which will be open to the public Thursday afternoon and evening, August 19.

It is hoped to make the exhibit an annual affair which will become larger as more people are interested. By comparing notes, Truckeeites can enhance the appearance of their yards and aid in the war effort by planting vegetables known to thrive in this climate. Each gardener is welcome to make an entry, whether a single choice flower or vegetable or a variety of each.

During the afternoon Mrs. Wolert player several selections and June Van Sant and Madeline Gill rendered vocal selections. Interest was added when motion pictures were taken of the beautiful setting.

Three Boys Are Jailed Here After Trailer Robbery

Eastern Youths Nabbed As They Attempted To Board Bus

Three 17-year-old boys were taken to the county jail at Nevada City on Tuesday to face charges of burglary after they were accused of breaking into the trailer house of Francis G. Phillips at Boca Sunday afternoon and stealing $160 in cash.

A few minutes after Phillips discovered his trailer house had been looted, State Patrolman Earl Crane apprehended the boys as they were preparing to board a Reno bus.

Taken to the highway patrol station near Truckee, the boys, Fred A. Fahrner and Elbert Thornton both of Burlingham, Iowa, and Howard Williams of Oklahoma, were searched and $154.76 of the stolen money was said by Sergeant B. W. Reynolds, to have been recovered. The boys, Reynolds said, admitted the theft. They said Thornton went through the vent in the roof, opened the door from the inside and allowed the others to enter. They helped themselves to food and after ransacking the place took the money and went to board the bus the officer reported.

Later the boys took Crane to the spot where they had discarded the pocketbook which contained the cash.

All three boys were turned over to the juvenile court by Constable N. F. Dolley who took them to Nevada City.

SOLDIER'S BODY IS TAKEN FROM LAKE

Coroner James E. Hickey of Douglas County, Nevada, said yesterday the body of Private First Class Raford E. Burdine, 23, son of Mrs. Roxie Burdine of Melrose, New Mexico, has been recovered from Lake Tahoe.

The Reno Army Air Base said Burdine, attached to the medical detachment at the base, was canoeing with another soldier Sunday. Neither could swim. Burdine stood up in the canoe, fell into the lake and was drowned near Zephyr Cove.

NO SPARE TIRES TO BE ALLOWED CARS

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 12.— (UP)— D. R. Paul, Washington Office of Price Administration official, warned today that American motorists will get no more grade one or grade three tires for spares.

Paul, painting a gloomy picture of America's tire problem, announced a new OPA amendment forbidding the issuance of grade one and three tires for spares and said drivers will have to replace worn out fifth tires with salvaged "O" tires.

The most serious rubber problem, he stated, is the estimated shortage of 3,400,000 truck tires. New truck tires are being made at the rate of 350,000 to 400,000 a month but the demand averages 680,000 a month. He added there is no reserve supply.

Man Drowns In Reservoir

Lester Smith, 41, guard at the Boca Reservoir for the past year, drowned in that body of water yesterday afternoon shortly before 4 o'clock.

Application of artificial respiration for more than two hours was to no avail. The Truckee inhalator was rushed from here by Constable N. F. Dolley and Chet Matson. The latter dove into the 12-feet of water to recover the body.

Smith had been swimming and evidentally suffered an attack to which he was a victim. His wife, Helen witnessed the tragedy.

Smith's original home was at Oakland.

by WALTER M. BARRETT

We have noticed a tendency on the part of the average driver to "step on it" and the thought strikes us that these motorists who are exceeding all state laws, to say nothing of the federal 35-mile limit, are either overly optimistic about the rubber situation or simply don't care what happens tomorrow. The shameful part of the story is that in most cases of violations we note C stickers, which denote the driver may be engaged in some so-called vital industry and he probably feels that his will be the last car in the country to be denied tires. He probably thinks that before he is stopped, the unfortunate A card holder must forfeit his tires, even if the latter had used every precaution to care for his rubber. And we wonder if his calculations are far wrong.

Truckee was hit with an epidemic of beggers this week but they were soon sent tramping by local officers. It seems too bad that some suitable punishment, a whipping post or something similar cannot be arranged for people who take advantage of the kindness of others to sponge a living. There is work available for everyone who wants to work these days, but these porfessional moochers refuse to work and prefer to ply their trade among honest people. Supporting this element tends to encourage them, but it's difficult to avoid a sense of pity in some cases.

We most heartily commend the action of the Southern Pacific in its project of improvements here. The company buildings throughout the town are being reroofed, repaired and painted. There is no denying the fact that the job was needed, but we marvel at the improvement which the work makes in the appearance of town. Many other local businesses and residences are being remodeled and painted as well and Truckee is actually taking on the appearance of a thriving, proud little city.

Fire Sweeps Over Wide Area Along Truckee Highway

Eighty Men Battle Flames Threatening Local Forest Lands

Fire, which was believed to have started along the Southern Pacific right of way a mile east of Truckee Tuesday afternoon, defied the efforts of between 50 and 80 firefighters until it consumed more than 20 acres of brush and small trees along the hill side north of the highway.

Fire fighting equipment from all nearby points was rushed to the scene when it became apparent that unless it was stopped, it would soon sweep over a large area of valuable range and forest lands.

Because of the dense, black smoke which shrouded the highway traffic for a time was delayed but not stopped.

Several poles belonging to the Sierra Pacfic Power Company were burned but the service was not molested.

The fire was controlled shortly before 6 p.m. after burning for four hours.

BEGGARS HAVE BAD TIME IN TRUCKEE

Edward A. Sullivan, 51, transient, was one of eight pan-handlers who declined to accept the invitation of Constable N. F. Dolley and Deputy Frank Titus to leave Truckee this week and because of his unwillingness was yesterday sentenced to serve 30 days in the county jail after appearing before Judge C. E. Smith.

Sullivan admitted, Dolley said, to several previous jail terms.

The eight beggars were all crippled to a minor degree. One of them was apparently selling pencils, but made one of his customers angry when he came into a bar and ordered a mixed drink with the 50 cents the customer had just paid him for a pencil.

Shop-lifters were also among the motley crew, all of whom, with the exception of Sulilvan heeded the good advice of Dolley and Titus to leave Truckee immediately.

Much credit for the success of the event goes to R. N. Little, chairman, and his committee consisting of A. P. Leitch, W. M. Englehart, Sr. and W. M. Englehart, Jr.

Your electric water heater is built to give you many, many years of carefree service. It will, however, last longer if not abused.
One abuse of an electric water heater is raising water temperature higher than 140° F. For general household use the thermostat on the water heater should be set between 120° F and 140° F; 130° F is usually satisfactory. Excessive water temperature is a cause of limed-up pipes and tank corrosion.

Politically Speaking

By LLOYD LAPHAM
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

SACRAMENTO, Aug. 12.—(UP)—Members of the legislature would like to make sure that they get credit for any tax reduction in county taxes this year.

Chairmen of all county boards of supervisors last week received a letter from the interim committee on the state tax structure asking what they were doing with the old age pension relief voted by the legislature

It was the second such letter most supervisors had. Earlier, Lee T. Bayshore, chairman of the assembly revenue and taxation committee sent a similar letter out shortly after the legislature adjourned.

The state lawmakers have a point. They say that since the legislature took over half of the former $10 county share of each old age pension, county taxes should be reduced by a similar amount.

The gross total involved throughout the state will run between $17,000,000 and $18,000,000. It means several cents on the tax rate of each county.

But the supervisors have a point too—in fact several of them.

They sent their representatives to the legislature this year armed to ask for a number of things, including some pretty big sums for civilian defense. County costs were rising and local taxes couldn't rise much more.

They decided to concentrate on the pension relief and to take up the slack on other items themselves.

So, the supervisors can hardly be blamed for getting a little irked when told they will be expected to pass along the whole grant to the citizens.

Especially when they are told by state legislators who were able to reduce state taxes while increasing ordinary costs of government.

They might also point out there is nothing in the bill shifting part of the county pension cost to the state that says anything about tax reduction.

Here's an excerpt from the letter sent by the interim tax committee to the supervisors:

"The committee wishes to re-emphasize in the minds of boards of supervisors at this crucial period when they are adopting their annual budgets, that the legislative intent behind increasing the state's participation in aged aid was to provide needed local property tax reduction.

"If this is not accomplished, over and above the added cost of new cases being brought on the rolls because of the increase in the grant, the purpose behind this legislation will be defeated, the supervisors have not provided the local property taxpayer with the relief that was intended for him and which he sorely needs, and the continuation of the new sharing basis as between state and county will be seriously jeopardized."

Governor Warren is expected to announce the membership of the new employment commission within the next few days, since the old part-time board passed out of existence las Wednesday.

So far, however, only one person has been mentioned around the capitol who could be said to have a fair chance of getting one of the $7500 a year positions. He is M. J. Kunz, a Sacramento city councilman and president of the Sacramento Buliding Trades Council.

Kunz is supposed to have been asked to take the post of labor commissioner early this year and to have turned it down because it would take him out of Sacramento.

Talk about Kunz as a candidtae for one of the jobs might give this conclusion—that the composition of the new commission won't be too far different from the old one.

The old commission was made up of two labor men, two employer representatives and one supposedly representing the public point of view. With both labor and capital so critically interested in employment insurance, a governor just about has to preserve the same lineup to keep from offending anyone

ENGLE PROMISES STOCKMEN AID

RED BLUFF, Aug. 12. — Helping to place the livestock industry on an economically sound basis will be one of his prime objectives is sent to congress, State Sen. Clair Engle, candidate for congress in the second district declared today.

"The unhealthy condition of the livestock industry, which has resulted in more animals on the hoof and fewer steaks on the table than at any other time in the nation's history, should be remedied at the first possible moment," Engle said.

A life-long resident of Tehama and Shasta counties, Engle pointed out that he is conversant with the various problems of the livestockmen.

BUREAUS ATTACK BY JESSE MAYO

Declaring that Congress must take a hand in reducing our rapidly growing federal bureaucracy, Senator Jess M. Mayo, candidate for congress at the coming special election on August 31, today advocated that when Congress reconvenes in September, it take immediate steps to abolish every bureau of the federal government that cannot show a positive aid to the nation's war effort.

"The test should be whether or not each bureau or commission is essential to the war effort," Mayo said. "If it is not, then it should be abolsihed by congressional action."

Mayo pointed out that there are 232,500 federal employes in California as compared with only 30,000 state employes.

MRS. ENGLEBRIGHT ON TOUR OF AREA TO CONTACT VOTERS

NEVADA CITY, Aug. 12.— Grace Englebright, widow of the late Congressman Harry L. Englebright and candidate for the enexpired term to which he was elected at the 1942 primaries, experienced something of a runaway of public sentiment during the closing days of the special election petitions' campaign.

Signatured petitions poured in at such volume that she found herself with a surplus of 1450 names, to each of which she was required under the law to address a letter explaining that the 3349 requirement had been reached before the petitioner's name was received by the Secretary of State.

That little chore discharged, Mrs. Englebright is now engaged in a canvass of the great Second District and plans to visit each of the 12 counties prior to election day and to call upon as many of the residents thereof as humanly possible.

Grace Englebright was born and reared in Nevada City, attended the schools there and later Mills College. Here here entire life has centered although she has traveled extensively and resided in Washington during the incumbency of her husband as erpresentative.

Grace Englebright states that if elected she will support the war effort without reserve. Beyond that she will endeavor to pick up yhere her late husband left off and to carry his numerous projects affecting the district, with each of which she is familiar, to completion.

Lack of Players Causes Delay of Tahoe Show

TAHOE CITY, Aug. 12.— Mrs. Harry Johanson president of the Tahoe Women's Club announces this week that the proposed play, He Ain't Done Right by Our Nell, has been postponed indefinitely due to the inability to find enough people to fill the parts. It may, however, be put on later in the season when the press of summer business relaxes.

Members are urged to remember the club's next meeting date, August 12 at 8 p.m. and attendt at the Community Center.

Plans for the moonlight beach picnic are finding a few hitches, with the Flora-dora trio relucatant to perform, due to loss of one of their number. And Miss Joyce Stoddard woh aws to have brought along he accordion, reports she will leave on Monday for home, eliminating her contribution. But a good time is assured just the same to all those who attend. Proceeds will go toward the beautification of the commons.

Latest sale of note was that of the Remo Sbarboro place at the foot of the Dollar Grade to Richard A. Carrington, Jr., of Los Angeles. Numerous other deals are pending, Kilner said.

TAHOE LETTER

To the Service Men

From SWANEE

Tahoe City, Aug. 12

Dear Tahoeites:

Tahoe is enjoying a beautiful week end again, although a brisk wind is blowing. Traffic seems more plentiful with many summer homes opened for brief vacations. Chief methods of relaxation seems to be horseback riding, scooter and bicycle riding and boating, with swimmers and sunbathers always present. Many hikers too are getting acquainted with the Tahoe back country, while fishing continues to lure the male population with various degrees of success.

Enjoyed a nice letter from the Harvey Hulls, formerly of the Tahoe telephone exchange, now comfortably settled in their new home in West Sacramento. Her letters have been tardy for the same excuse many of us busy housewives are giving these summer days — the canning of fruit and vegetables for winter consumption. She declares they now have a model vegetable garden in thier back yard and a peach tree just about ready to strip for canning. From the list of goodies she described, already canned, it looks like the Hull family will eat well for some time to come.

Sad news was contained in her letter too, for her nephew, Technical Sgt. Lloyd Eldon Kile, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Kile of Alameda, is reported missing in action as of July 16. He was least heard from in the Africa fighting and while his mother is nearly prostrated witth grief, like other brave mothers she is hoping and praying that he was not killed. A second son, Darol Kile is in the tank corps at Fort Scott.

Dean Hull is now stationed at Farragut, Idaho, for six months as seaman guard and recently returned home on a ten day leave. His wife is living near his camp to be close eo him.

A recent letter to George Kehlet of Meeks Bay from his son Fred, now in North Africa, reports him well and fond of his important task of repairing bomb sights, but envious of his family and friends who are spending the summer at Tahoe.

Another local boy, Dick Carnell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Carnell of Tahoe has received an invitation from Uncle Sam to appear on August 17 for his physical and induction at Auburn. Dick turned 18 in May and has been eagerly expecting his greetings for some days past. He hopes to join the army airplane mechanics corps in due time. Dick is a real son of Tahoe, having lived here for 11 of his 18 years, attended the first grade at Tahoe while living at Meeks Bay and graduated from the grammar school here. He completed three years of high school at Tahoe but graduated from the Richmond high school last November, after his parents moved to that city. Like other Tahoe boys, Dick is loath to leave the lake region, but is anxious to contribue his small part ao the winning of the war.

Rodney Yeakel, son of Mrs. Lloyd Yeakel of Oakland and Lake Forest, will leave next week for an induction center to don the uniform of his country. He too plans to become a mechanic. He has been working for some months in Richmond Shipyard No. 3. Both Rod and Dick are hoping to eventually wind up in the same outfit. Good luck to both of them from the rest of the Tahoeites!

We welcomed Otto Fox to our long list of Sierra Sun subscribers this week and were interested to learn that his 18 year old son, Kenneth (Bud to his pals) is now awaiting the call to the colors at Pacific Union College at Angwin, California, where he is attending pre-medical school. Daughter, Carmen, is now working as draftsman on important government contracts with the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company in Sacramento and son, Robert, 21, is a member of the medical corps at Loma Linda. He was formerly with the medical reserve, but is now in active service. Mrs. Fox is at present visiting at Angwin for a time and Mr. Fox keeps the lonely homefires burning in his batcelor quarters at the Watson home in town, which he rented for the season while teaching in the Tahoe branch of the Placer Union High School, during the summer months.

Mr. Fox cherishes highly a letter re recently received for a former pupil from Auburn, Captain James Calder, who wrote from the Africa eer months agoetaoin etaoin etaoin battlefront. He started his flying career months ago and rose to squad leader of one of the ferry flight commands between England and America His present job however, is far more glamorous and thrilling, that of pilot for the famous General Alexander on his hazardous missions in the fighting zones.

Visiting my old friend, Mrs. Elizabeth Walker at her beautiful home beside the Truckee River last week, I learned that she had only been home from an Oakland hospital a week, having had the pin removed froh the hip she broke in a fall almost a year ago. She is proudly displaying a photograph of her nephew Roderick A. Smith, Jr., 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Smith of Los Angeles. The young man spent two whole summers at his aunt's home here where he clarned to hunt and fish and fell a tree like a seasoned woodsman. He entered the service at San Diego as a member of the aircraft ground crew, but is now in Alameda taking an advanced course. His sister, Frances Elizabth, 21, is a member of the WAXES stationed in the Los Angeles area.

Mrs. John Stevens of San Francisoc who with her husband was a resident of the Bittencourt tract in town for years, is visiting Mrs. Stella Watson for 12 days. While here she stopped in for a visit with me. She declared that both she and Mr. Stevens welcome their Sierra Sun with greatest anticipation, especially enjoying the News Letter to the boys. She tells me that after they hove finished with the Sun they pass it on to the garage man on the corner, who in turn passes it on to a 70-year-old ex-resident of Truckee who shares it with other old timers. This is typical of many tales I hear of the Sierra Sun as round and round it goes, even to the fartherest corners of the earth, thanks to appreciative subscribers.

Two young aviation cadets, Donald J. Kelly and Earl L. Lee, who graduated from the University of Nevada last Saturday, accompanied daughter Phyllis nd Audrey Hughes from Reno last Friday night in time to enjoy the refreshments being served members of the Tahoe Gun Club who gathered at my house for their regular monthly meeting. It was the boys' first glimpse of the lake and they were duly impressed. Cadet Lee later entertained us with samples of his tobacco auctioneering, learned in childhood from his father, a professional auctioneer from North Carolina. Their next stop for classification will be Santa Ana.

I plan next week to list the patriots in the family of Dr. and Mrs. Clark Burnham who own a lovely home atop the cliffs along the Truckee River. Their record is an enviable one. — Leave you again with fervent blessings from the folks back home and may Peace and Victory walk with you before the end of 1943.

Yours as ever,

SWANEE.

TAHOE CLUB ASKS THAT JAPS BE KEPT IN CONCENTRATION

TAHOE CITY, Aug. 12.— Members of the Tahoe Gun Club met Friday night at the home of the Charles Swansons with 20, including guests, present. President Bill LaMarr conducted the business session. Miss Kathleen Starratt wa admitted to membership.

Chief topic of the evening was the proposed letter, suggesetd and written by Mrs. Swanson, which was sent, with unanimous approval of the ciub to oGvernor Earl Warren protesting the release of Japanese for the duration of the war. Contents of the letter follows:

We, the undersigned, respectfully submit for your earnest attention, and support, the following petition and resolution:

Be it hereby resolved that the entire Japanese population of Califoornia, whether alien or American born, be held under the protective custody of the United States Government in concentration camps, or other army supervised detention centers, for the entire duration of the war. It is our belief there is no sure test for determining the loyalty, or disloyalty of these dual-sided people who have, by their own treacherous acts, forfeited their rights and privileges as citizens of this ocuntry. They repaid the hosptality of a friendly and generous America with deceit and barbarism. Let us never knowingly allow conditions to exist which will again permit the possibility of another tragc, never to be forgotten Pearl Harbor!

Respectfully yours,
The Tahoe Gun Club

Those enjoying the evening included Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Martin and son, A. M. Anderson, Robert Harkness, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wallace and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. William LaMarr, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Bechdolt, Jr., Phyllis Carroll, Audrey Hughes and Aviation Cadets Lee and Kelley all of Reno, Charles and Jimime Swanson and Eleanor Swanson and Mrs. Eric Druhn, co-hostesses, the latter the creator of the tasty chop suey feed which followed the business meeting.

FIRE HAZARDS ARE CITED BY FORESTER

Prevailing hazardous weather conditions during the past several weeks are contributing to an extremely dangerous fire condition in the Tahoe National Park, warns Supervisor Guerdon Ellis at Nevada City.

Everyone who smokes or builds a campfire in a national forest should exercise great care in complying with all regulations that protect the natural resources. A careless act by a smoker or camper could cause a disasterous fire and would properly be termed an act of sabotage to our war effort, Ellis said, as fires destroy badly needed timber resources and grazing lands.

a Mail-Well Envelope with any Envelope and you will readily see the superiority of Mail-Well construction

● Notice in the above illustration the entirely different construction of the two envelope flaps. Figure 1 shows the old style flap. Figure 2 shows the "Mail-Well" flap which has been designed to protect the contents of the envelope. The outstanding advantages of this special high shoulder flap are:

It allows adequate room for heavy gumming at the corners, the envelope's weakest point, where added protection is most needed.*

It assures safe delivery of the contents even when stuffed to capacity.

It gives easy access to the letter opener although sealed nearly airtight.

You can best judge the merits when you have a Mail-Well and any other type envelope in your hands. Let us show you samples—a comparison will readily convince you of the added protection given your mail by Mail-Well envelopes. You will be under no obligation to order.

Author of "How to Win Friends and Influence People"

PLAY UP YOUR GOOD POINTS

The following letter from Mrs. R. B. Sterling of Durham, N. C., is entered in the contest on "How to Cure an Inferiority Complex."

"I realized early that my singing was far inferior to that of some of my friends. Although I enjoyed playing and singing, I trembled with fear at the thought of an audience.

"One day in college, the teacher of one of our required music courses announced: 'The voice of each of you will be put to a test. Those who pass must teach a song to this group as though teaching to children.' My name was called and my heart pounded like a hammer. Five minutes later I was terrified to learn that I had passed the test.

"Out of my dark cloud a ray of hope broke through. I had often told stories to groups who showed a great deal of interest. I would use my story telling ability to hide that I was not a Jenny Lind.

"At last the dreaded day arrived. I had worked a song into an original story in such way that the students learned it without realizing whether I was a good singer or not.

"The teacher praised my accomplishment and presented the nightmare of asking me to teach another song. I did not want to use the same method the second time.

"Drawing was a hobby I had been keeping in the background. I was soon able to swing lines in rhythm to a milking song, so that I had a cow drawn on the blackboard by the time the song was finished.

"On the day I was to teach it, I sat in the back of an auditorium that I thought empty, practicing drawing a cow as I silently sang to myself. A voice said 'Very good. Let me see you draw a jardiniere.' I looked around and saw a strange woman. After a quick sketch of the jardiniere, she asked me to draw a stone fireplace. Then she told me she was there to coach the senior play. She explained that the artist who was to paint the scenery was ill. They were planning to engage another, but she wanted me to try for the job by painting small pictures of some of the things that were to materialize later in larger proportions. In two days, I went to work on my first job.

"Since then, I have received a diploma from one of our outstanding art schools. To that teacher I owe this lesson: Play up your good points; put your weak ones in the background; add determination, politeness, and faith in yourself."

Mr. Wallace's Detroit Speech

It would be interesting to know what is in—or on—our vice president's mind. That Mr. Wallace is a sincere man and a staunch American few question; and so long as he remains an important factor in American political life, his words and attitudes must be taken seriously into account.

Most people are in accord with Mr. Wallace's apparent—though not very original—theory that only through co-operation can we create a successful post-war world. And a great many people were, therefore, much surprised when Mr. Wallace—seeming to preface his theory upon this conclusion—plunged into aggressive warfare with a possibly very large segment of the American public which has heretofore labored under the impression that it too had a right to its opinions without necessarily being un-American.

In his Detroit speech of Sunday, July 25, the vice president of all the American people "puts the finger" on "isolationists," "reactionaries" and "American Fascists" without explaining what he means by "isolationists," "reactionaries" and "American Fascists." Are "isolationists" the 80 per cent of American citizens whom Mr. Gallop's poll showed to be opposed to America's entry into the war prior to the time we were sneak attacked by Japan —acting in behalf of herself and her Axis partners? Or are they those who today may not agree with Mr. Wallace that we should—as an illustration—forego the manufacture of synthetic rubber in this country after the war, so that our requirements may rebuild the rubber industry of the Dutch East Indies and thereby foster world trade? There are many millions of good Americans who feel that Mr. Wallace's ideas on international "give and take" are too redolent of "give" on our part, and "take" on behalf of the rest of the world. Are these millions figures of greed and selfishness because of their possibly erroneous but nevertheless sincere beliefs?

Who does Mr. Wallace mean by "reactionaries"? Are they possibly those Americans who don't believe we can improve a great deal upon the form and structure of the "people's government" which the clever founders of this republic evolved? Or are they those who feel that we should move cautiously and not plunge too precipitately into the international political maelstrom—even before the military struggle is over and the post-war attitude of the other nations of the earth begins to take shape? Surely these millions are not greedy and selfish because they put the interests of the United States before all other interests. Or are they?

And the "American Fascists":—Could these be the Americans who stand for free enterprise and the right of every man to get rich or stay poor, as he sees fit, without their moves or actions depending upon government directive—an essential condition only in the event of war or other dangerous disturbance? Or is this the brand for the business men and the industrialists who have done no mean job in providing the means and the implements without which Mr. Hitler would now be secure in his position as boss of all Europe and Africa?

Mr. Wallace handles generalities too casually. After all, he is vice president for all the people, even the "isolationists," "reactionaries" and "American Fascists." He would acquire—from among them—more adherents to his theories by the use of sound argument than through denunciation.

Never Uprooted

IF an individual is forced to go forth from his home surroundings, or even if he leaves voluntarily, feeling he has weighed anchor and is separated from his base, he is quite likely to feel self-pity, lack, or dissatisfaction. But if he will take the mental attitude that he cannot be uprooted — because he is "rooted and grounded in love," nothing need disturb his equanimity. Stability is dependent upon God.

The Discoverer and Founder of Christian Science, Mary Baker Eddy, always turned to the Bible, to the Old and New Testaments, for guidance. She writes in "Miscellaneous Writings" (p. 186): "We learn in the Scriptures, as in divine Science, that God made all; that He is the universal Father and Mother of man;" and she adds, "Now let us not lose this Science of man, but gain it clearly; then we shall see that man cannot be separated from his perfect Principle, God, inasmuch as an idea cannot be torn apart from its fundamental basis."

The statement that "an idea cannot be torn apart from its fundamental basis," understood spiritually, has great power to heal a rift, no matter how wide it may seem to be, or whether a rift of thought or distance. Man can exist only where God exists, for the source of man's life is God, and there is no place where God is not. So man is never separated from God, either here or hereafter. Awareness of this fact, that man and his Maker are inseparable, opens the way for bright possibilities of happiness and satisfaction everywhere.

The man of God's creating eternally abides in the presence of God. Nothing can move him out of this presence. Nothing can deprive him of the blessings of dwelling in "the house of the Lord." God as Father gives him wisdom, courage, strength; God as Mother provides shelter, nourishment, protection, companionship. This may be claimed as true for oneself, and should also be seen as true for those on whom one's thoughts may rest, those perhaps from whom one has been temporarily separated; for the acknowledgment of such truths brings to light the goodness of God in each one's human experience.

If one is willing to give up human desires and plans to serve the highest right he knows, he may learn to say in the words of St. Paul (Philippians 4:11, 13): "For I have learned, in whatsoever state I am, therewith to be content. . . . I can do all things through Christ which strengtheneth me." One need never accept conditions of inharmony of any sort as necessary or God-planned. Rather should one seek to understand the divinely directed plan of which each one is an essential part. One should recognize the all-wise Mind as the sole controller of each individual. Every idea of God is cared for by Him, not neglected. The real man of God's creating is under the divine law of progressive unfoldment, not marking time, unadjusted, or discontented.

The true man of God's creating is incapable of weakness, physical or moral; nor does he fear temptation, but rather is he upheld by the influence of divine Spirit, which enfolds him. He is the very expression of strength and health. He rejoices in freedom, knowing as he does that he is "rooted and grounded" in divine Principle, Love.

It is spiritual progress which counts and is fundamentally satisfying to each one, far more satisfying than trying to please personal sense. Each day can be a record of fruitful spiritual growth and victory—sometimes a victory over self, sometimes an opportunity to help another or to co-operate in the deliverance of all mankind from that which is unprincipled. True manhood and womanhood, whether at home or afield, are always victorious, joyous, satisfied, spiritually sustained and God-blessed. . . . — The Christian Science Monitor.

DECREASE SHOWN IN LIQUOR LICENSES IN PLACER, NEVADA

A marked decrease in the number of premises licensed for the sale of liquor in California during the last six months was revealed at Sacramento this week by Richard E. Collins of Redding, chairman of the state board of equalization. He attributed the drop to wartime conditions with an attendant shortage of alcoholic beverages due to the utilization of all major distilleries for the production of industrial alcohol.

According to statistics just completed currently, there are in Nevada County 121 premises at which liquor is sold for which 196 licenses are held. The corresponding figures for 1942 were 149 premises and 237 licenses.

Currently in Placer County there are 177 premises and 296 licenses and in 1942 there were 200 premises and 327 licenses.

Collins explained that due to the variety of licenses required in connection with alcoholic beverage control, some premises may have as many as three or four types of licenses.

"For the first itme," Collins said, 'there has been a decline in per capita consumption figures compared with those for a corresponding period in the preceding year. This condition has been prevalent throughout the country and must have a bearing on the fact that in California there has been a decrease of approximately 10 per cent in the number of licensed premises.

"Due to the large reserves of beverage stocks in this state, the effect of the decline has been felt here later than in the rest of the United States generally. The present tendency is toward a further decrease in the number of premises at which liquor is sold as well as still lower per capita consumption as stocks continue to dwindle."
